Spring 2017

President's Message

As we arrive at our CWC summer break, I find my heart bursting with gratitude. I'm honored by your kindness and support as I finish my first year as your President.

We kicked off the year marching together as Suffragettes in Carmel's 100 Year Celebration. Our themed outfits on point, voices loud and proud, and most importantly, our united bond. We have created enthusiasm and eagerness throughout our community, and as a result enjoyed our largest ever membership increase.

This year's programs offered "Sweet Seconds" where you found that special something, a peek into the life of a CIA Agent, Royalty Etiquette, Witty Authors and Artists, Legendary Locals and History Making Events. Our scheduled programs finished the year strong with some Hollywood Gossip and a record breaking fundraising event "New York, New York Fashion Show." All of this is possible with our strong Membership and supportive Board of Directors. It has been an honor and pleasure to work with Donna Jett, Debbie Basham, Lynne Trebler, Robin Winfield, Tina DeMaria, Wendy Fields, Sandy Wild, Tina DelPiero, Flo Snyder-Speck, Mary Luster, Jennifer Holmes, Jackie Craghead, Virginia Ziomek and Janet Ichinose for the dedication you continue to bring to your leadership position. Extra special gratitude to Lynne Trebler as she retires from Parliamentarian. You personally inspired me to always pay attention to details and Roberts Rules. Our Board Meetings won't be the same without you, but we all look forward to seeing your beautiful smile at programs and events.

I wish you all a summer break filled with adventures and fun. Watch for information about Carmel's Fourth of July Event where we will hand out thousands of free cookies. Our first Program of the 2017/18 year will be held Monday, October 2, 2017 at 2:00PM. Thank you for making Carmel Woman's Club the "Coolest Club on the Block" built entirely by you.

*Grateful Hugs,
Teresa Basham
President*

Laverne McLeod

The Carmel Woman's Club celebrated Martin Luther King Day with Laverne McLeod, author of "Corn Hollow". Corn Hollow is an historical fiction novel of a young girl growing up in the agrarian South during the Civil Rights Movement. Drawn from the author's childhood experiences, "Corn Hollow" tells the story of conflicts and incidents in the protagonist's life in a family that thought differently than she and her older sister. Immediately following Laverne's presentation, tea and refreshments were served.

Kaleria Palchikoff

A very riveting recount of his mother's experience during the bombing of Hiroshima was presented by author Anthony Drago. After the United States dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan, on Aug. 6, 1945, Washington sent a team of researchers to interview eyewitnesses. Only one interview was conducted in English. A Russian woman, Kaleria Palchikoff living near the destroyed city tells her tale of seeing people caught by the blast.

Cornelia Read

Although she was raised by divorced hippie-renegade parents on the outskirts of Big Sur (with occasional stints in Honolulu), Cornelia Read knows old-school WASP culture firsthand, having been born into the tenth (and last) generation of her mother's family to live on Oyster Bay's Centre Island. Her childhood mentors included Sufis, surfers, single moms, Black Panthers, Ansel Adams, draft dodgers, striking farmworkers, and Henry Miller's toughest ping-pong rival.

At fifteen, Read returned east, attending boarding school and college on full scholarship. While in New York, she did time as a debutante at the Junior Assemblies, worming her way back into the Social Register following her expulsion when a regrettable tantrum on the part of her mother's boyfriend's wife landed the lot of them on "Page Six" of the New York Post.

Much of the material in her Madeline Dare novels is autobiographical.

Karen Murray

Karen Murray proprietor of Eddison & Melrose Tea Room. She talked about having tea with the Queen and set up a beautiful table for us to experience what it would be like to entertain with royalty. Karen Anne Murray hails from Birmingham, England, but her training as a chef has taken her around the world. Her tearoom, Eddison & Melrose, in Monterey, California, features traditional English fare—with just a little something different.

Tony Baker

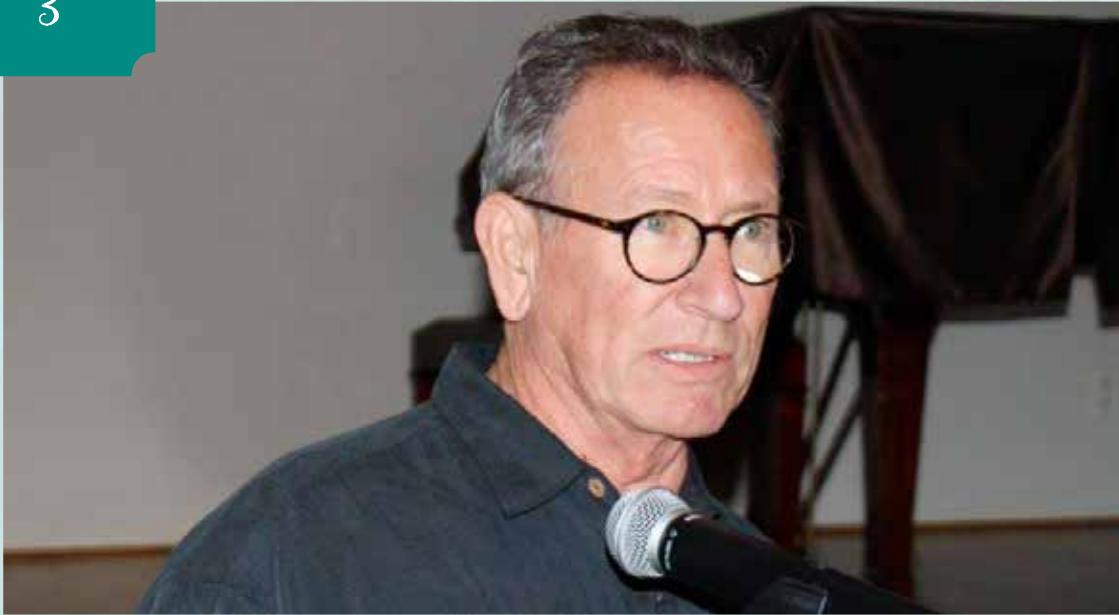

Tony Baker, the London-trained and internationally known Bacon King of Montrio Bistro in Monterey, served up a presentation to the beauty and flavor of pork. He brought a colleague, Butch, the Cowboy Sausage Maker. An award winning leader in the culinary arts, Chef Baker developed his unique brand of bacon that is now featured in fine restaurants from Pebble Beach to Chicago. Chef Tony explained how pork is cured traditionally and how it can be cured more naturally and taste even better. Then, he and Butch cooked up some of their delicious fare and served it to members and guests.

For this tea, sandwiches were provided by: Susan Marsh, Megan Mayer, Sharon McFarlin, Joan & Terry McHenry, Jana Magginettis & Annette Thomas Desserts were provided by: Lisa Martin, Diane Miller & Ann Cowles Table Decoration were provided by: Joan & Terry McHenry.

Will Bullas

Carmel Woman's Club was visited by Will Bullas, "The Will Rogers of Art". We were treated to Will's humorous interpretation of cultural events and icons. We laughed and admired the remarkable works of this critically acclaimed artist, Will Bullas, as he presented his art along with his wit and humor to the Carmel Woman's Club Members and guests. A master of hilarious one-liners and visual puns, Bullas makes fine art fun as he combines award-winning artistry with a unique perspective on the world.

Thank you to the following members who provided refreshments for the day's program:
Sandwiches: Marge Moore, Roberta Myers, Linda Myrick, Georgia Nevarez, Melissa Newlin & Wendy O' Grain.

Desserts: Jan Praisner, Barbara Moody, Paula Motley, Nancy Reiley and Maureen McGowan-Haun.

Pouring Tea/Coffee: Megan Mayer & Georgia Nevarez Table decorations: Marge Moore

Mary Chamberlin

April
17

Mary Chamberlin visited us to share her story from Illinois farm girl to internationally known chef. Acclaimed Chef and Author Mary Chamberlin, Founder and President of the Central Coast chapter of Les Dames d'Escoffier and board member of the American Institute of Wine & Food, was featured speaker at Carmel Woman's Club.

From her recent trip to Paris to participate in the celebration of the 170th anniversary of Chef Auguste Escoffier, the culinary giant who revolutionized cooking, kitchens and French cuisine, Chamberlin gave details of the event and the elaborate dinner she attended under the patronage of Prince Albert of Monaco.

Many thanks to the following members who will provide refreshments:

Sandwiches: Patricia O'Keefe, Lynn O'Neill, Sofia Osborne, Suhzah Park, Liz Pittman & Kathleen Pokigo
Desserts: Mary George, Joyce Moffatt, Valerie Pieroni, Judy Pifer, Deb Aitchison.

Table decorations: Lendy Haisley

Annual Fashion Show

May
1

This year, the theme of our annual fundraiser-fashion show was New York New York! Fashion Show Chairwoman, Jackie Craghead and her large team of volunteers pulled it off again! Jackie had ten women models and five men modeling. We had a sell-out crowd, a beautiful lunch, and as usual, and everyone had a great time. In addition to a sit-down lunch, there was a silent auction with lovely items for sale. All profits from this event go to Meals on Wheels.

The Golden Girls of Hollywood

Carmel Woman's Club members and guests were entertained by "The Golden Girls of Hollywood" with a couple of clever and entertaining vignettes from the golden days of Hollywood.

Some serious name-dropping, insult-swapping, and sizzling secrets of Hollywood's biggest stars were revealed by famed and feuding gossip columnists Luella Parsons and Hedda Hopper.

The Golden Girls was a staged reading featuring local actresses. It is a production of director-playwright Carol Marquart.
